

LARGE conventions have been called and held in all of the leading cities and towns in the central and north-eastern portion of the State except in the city of Maysville. Why Maysville has never been able to secure an important convention we cannot tell, unless it has been for the want of some one to take an active interest in the matter. We know that Judge Wall, the chairman of our county committee, has been for several weeks, actively engaged in an effort to secure the holding of the Superior Court Convention at this point. The selection of Maysville is certainly due to his efforts and our citizens properly appreciate that fact. Lexington, Winchester, Blue Licks, Morehead and Maysville were the contending places, and it was Maysville against the field, and while all the other places had sent committees of citizens to aid their chairman, Maysville relied alone upon Judge Wall, and we are all gratified at his success. To realize the importance of this convention we must remember that forty-five counties are embraced in the district, commencing with Gallatin County and running across Scott, Fayette, Estill, Clay and Bell, and including all the counties east of them to the Virginia and Tennessee lines. Large delegations from most of these counties will be sent to Maysville, and, aside from the actual money that always comes to a city with a large crowd, the benefits of the associations and acquaintances thus formed will be valuable and lasting.

Speaking.

Hon. Thomas Turner, candidate for Judge of the Superior Court, will address the Democracy at the court house, tomorrow evening at eight o'clock. Turn out and hear him.

HOW WE MAY KEEP COOL.

Some Seasonable Hints for the Benefit of Heated Humanity.

The temperature of our bodies, which normally is about ninety-eight and one-half degrees, is easily affected by our breathing our food and drink, our habits, whether active or otherwise, and by the temperature of the place in which we may happen to be. The point just named is one of the most important, yet little is known of it for the fact that now is practically beyond our control. Excess of moisture in the air is said to and doubtless does make a high temperature more depressing, because it causes the water that exudes from our bodies to be absorbed by the air and remain upon the surface of the body, a circumstance that greatly retards the elimination of heat. Gentle currents of cool air are agreeable and refreshing, because they lessen the evaporation from the face.

The same consideration applies on the body temperature is well known and though we cannot control our movements at all times, yet by experience all will find that "go slow" is a very good rule to go by in the weather—that is, when the temperature of the air gets up among the miasmas, previous to which one should complain.

The food and drink most suitable for summer use can be quickly named for a minimum amount of fat and heat, for, but take care to use the most nutritious and digestible substances that can be commanded. Heated foods are best used at breakfast time. Perfectly mature fruits used raw or fruit not quite ripe cooked. Cold boiled ham, tongue or beef, and ham, are good, but the cold ham may at times be substituted by cold lemonade. The two should, however, in no case be used together. The clothing best adapted to hot weather wear, loose garments of light, airy, moist material is, for the reason that the material just named aids the evaporation from the surface of the body referred to. Wiping the face, hands and arms with a cloth wet with cool water, followed by drying these surfaces gently, is at times very grateful.

A STORY OF TWO SKULLS.

How Two Dusky Lovers Settled a Dispute to Which Should Have a Diploma. Washington Republican.

Two skulls attracted much attention from members of the medical congress recently in session here. They are in case five in the Army Medical Museum and are said to be the skulls of negroes who have a romantic history," said the steward to a reporter. A pair of eggs struck by a club would have presented about the same appearance as the skulls do. One of them showed a compound fracture, the other a single, irregular, crushed, while the other showed a wide and irregular crack or fracture, extending from the right eye across the dome of the skull to the left ear. "They are the skulls of two young men," continued the steward, "who were engaged in a desperate battle at Norfolk some time ago about a negro master. It appears that both men were desperately in love with the girl and that she was too fickle to decide which of them should be her steady company."

"The two combatants held a council of war outside the house and agreed to meet the next day and settle the whole thing by a genuine Southern derby boutting match, after the most approved course in the Southern states. Some sources provide that the men shall stand twenty paces apart and at the word 'Go' rush at each other with heads down; this to continue until one or the other of the combatants gives up. It is known, however, that when the fight was over in the case of the dusky Norfolk lovers they only came together once. Their heads collided with a crash, crushing them in the manner described. One of the human 'billy goats' died instantly, the other in a few hours."

PLOT ON THE EMPEROR'S LIFE.
Benevolence Brought Out by the Trial of the Anarchists at Vienna.

Vienna, June 27.—The trial of twenty three anarchists commenced June 11 and concluded to-day. The chief witness for the prosecution were anarchists. Podby, who had been indicted and convicted, was the chief witness. The effect that January last the anarchists were entirely under the command of a committee in New York. They organized clubs and made collections weekly for party purposes, and in the weekly paper of anarchist in March, 1883, had three secret sittings when the assassination of the Emperor was discussed, and this they resolved to accomplish by means of bombing during a visit to a popular festival in Vienna. The meeting, the witness said, was presided over by Michael Kaspau, who read letters from America announcing that bombs were already on their way and that the conspirators were invited to volunteer for the family of the man selected. All present, about thirty, were cast out. Podby, a second, was seated in the audience, and his husband, that several conspirators had been singled out for the journey to France to receive the bombs from America. A New York letter read at a meeting, he said, advised him to be wary, as he was the only man in America who had been brought up to be a anarchist.

The prisoners were indicted for high treason and attempt on the Emperor's life, but were acquitted on both charges. Podby and her confederates were condemned to death, but the Emperor commuted the sentence to life imprisonment. It is plain, however, that the prisoners were members of the socialist society at a meeting at which speeches were made relating to the alleged wrongs of the working classes. The Emperor, however, was not satisfied with the distribution of the speech, and the prisoners were convicted of conspiracy against public order and let off with short sentences.

A long letter from John O'Leary, well-known Fenian, residing in Paris, was published to-day, in which he denies the assertion made by the Paris correspondent of the Times and published in that paper to effect that citizens of this city were plotting to assassinate the Emperor by explosives. The Fenian of Paris always condemned the practice of using dynamite to secure justice for Ireland.

A BLOODY BATTLE.

Three Men Killed on Account of Some Mexican Women.

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, June 27.—Yesterday at Elpere Ranch on the Rio Grande, two men were killed and one woman who had indulged liberally in drink, became involved in a desperate and bloody quarrel over some Mexican women. Amado Hernandez drew a stiletto and plunged it into the back of his victim, killing him instantly. He then attacked the other, mortally wounding two, one of them a brother of Hernandez. The murderer made a desperate effort to escape to his home, the River to Mexico, but was hotly pursued and arrested and brought here and lodged in jail. The crime has caused much excitement among both Americans and Mexicans, and a strong feeling prevails to storm the jail and take Hernandez and summarily execute him.

WHOLESALE POISONING.

Serious Illness and Two Deaths from Eating Ice Cream.

PITTSBURG, June 27.—The report reached this city late last night of a serious poisonings from eating ice cream, and the same was reported to the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, near Covington, Ky. A number of persons attending a picnic yesterday had eaten freely of ice cream. Towards evening several persons became ill, and a number of others were more or less affected. The victims are Wm. Coulon, wife and child; Mrs. Wilson and three children; Joseph Coulon, Robert Cook, Thomas Williams and his wife, colored. The colored Williams' little daughter and the colored man have since died.

The others' condition is critical. It is thought the poisoning was caused by adulterated vanilla flavoring used in the ice cream.

Infant Murderers.

PITTSBURG, Va., June 27.—Information is just received of a horrible murder of a child only two years old at Tarlton, W. Va. The child was aged three and seven, was left by his mother, Mrs. Fenner, for a few minutes. She gave each a piece of cake, giving to the small child the largest portion. During the mother's absence the two children dragged the young fellow to the river bank, pounded his brains out with stones, and threw the body into the river. After they had done, and were about to cover the body, was recovered. The mother was recovered. Mrs. Fenner is nearly crazy with grief.

Killed by a Cloud-Burst.

HELNA, Mo., June 27.—A cloud-burst occurred on the mountain side near Corbin, twenty-two miles south of Helna yesterday. A wave of water eight feet deep rushed down the gulch towards Jefferson and washed away the bridge over the Cutham, drowning three of the occupants. An alarm was telephoned to Jefferson from Corbin, and many people found refuge in hills and by white tents. The second storm came in rapidly before reaching the town, and when it passed through the streets it was not deep enough to sweep away any but a few small frame houses. Nobody was drowned in the second storm, but the Jefferson Railroad was washed out. Much damage was done to goods in the stores and to the crops.

LAUGHING BLUE EYES.

Thrilling Romance of a Cincinnati Girl at Long Branch.

Saved From a Warty Grave by a Strange Young Man, as She Was Sinking for the Last Time, Who Then Disappeared.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., June 27.—Loungers and bathers yesterday watched with admiration a young girl who stepped daintly down upon the beach, about eighteen years of age, with sunny hair and laughing blue eyes. She was wearing a light-colored bikini. Her acquaintances who sat upon the piazza recognized her as the acknowledged belle of the branch. Miss Neta was not seen for a week, and then, suddenly, the observers were startled by a scream. "Help! I am sinking," came to their ears. Miss Neta was feebly buffeting the billows and was being exhausted. A cry of horror went up from the beach, and the sun faded and again sank. A young man several hundred feet from the drowning girl dashed into the waves. The crowd cheered him on. At last, he reached the place where Miss Neta had disappeared and diving down arose a few feet away with the young lady clasped in his arms. She was still conscious. Many times the brave fellow and his fair burden were pulled from the breaking waves, but after a long struggle he came near enough to the beach for assistance to be rendered and they were helped upon the beach. Miss Neta was taken to a nearby room, unconscious, and asked for her resuscitation, but no one knew him. He had disappeared. Miss Neta and her family are making every effort to find the young man who nobly risked his life.

FRIGHTFUL DEVASTATION

of the Waters of the Rio Grande—Freaks of Nature.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Tragic advances from Pecos, New Mexico, to Fort Davis, Texas, say that the great water front above, on the Rio Grande, has come down, and is now filling the grand canyons of San Carlos, San Vicente and Rio Grande to the depth of 100 feet, and is spreading with a frightful devastation on the Mexican side at San Carlos, just below E. Madero, Chihuahua, the great point next to the Comanche crossing of the river, completed washing out the porch colonnade and the viaducts, and breaking up into the Cimarron, Los Altos (Alar Creek), just above the old Presidio of San Vincente, covering along it and sweeping up stock. On the American side, in Pecos and Pecos Counties, all the mountain tanks and natural reservoirs are full to overflowing. Such a water power has not been known to have been known in fifty years. The grass is green and luxuriant clear to the tops of the highest ranges presenting a state of verdancy never before witnessed in that country in this generation. The stock there declare that their herds literally wallowing in grass and mesquite grass.

WALL STREET.

Stout & Co. Fatted and the Market is Feverish.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Money 3 per cent. Exchange dull, 48 1/2 to 49 1/2. Gold 100.00. 118 1/2 bid; fours and a half, 109 1/2. The stock market has been weak and feverish all morning and rumors of impending failures and of all sorts of trouble have been flying about, causing great distrust and apprehension. The opening prices were bid up fractionally, but on reports that banks were calling in loans on certain publications thereupon a rush took place. Not until 12 m. did the market open whose leadership prices broke to 24 1/2. Shortly after noon the Chair moved on the suspension of Stout & Co., causing much excitement among brokers and newly sold selling.
